We are Earthlings. Earthlings is a nature-based education program that teaches young learners about the many wonders the outdoors has to offer. In a thoughtfully designed and interactive outdoor classroom, children develop skills in math, literature, science, and problem-solving through activities such as hands-on play, reading and creating stories, creative arts, open-ended exploration and gardening. Engaging in and with nature provides endless educational possibilities and positively impacts children's social-emotional development, allowing them to become creative, compassionate, connected, and fun-loving Earthlings.
